

Worksheet#7

26/07/2023

Instructions for the exercise

From the given GeometricObject class, create a subclass called Square. Provide the appropriate field(s) and method(s) for the new created subclass. Also create another class called TestSquare which contains the main() method to instantiate the objects which belong to Square class. Make sure that you test all of the methods and constructor(s) in your Square class.